

Andrew Li

29 Garden St, Apt #503, Cambridge, MA 02138 • ali@jd26.law.harvard.edu • 703-457-0020

EDUCATION

- Harvard Law School, Cambridge, MA

- Candidate for J.D., May 2026
- Activities:
 - * Harvard Journal of Law & Technology, Submissions Manager; Production Editor
 - * Asia Law Society, Asia Business Conference Co-Chair
 - * China Law Society, Symposium Co-Chair

- University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA

- B.S. in Computer Science, Economics & Public Policy with Highest Distinction, May 2023
- Honors:
 - * Kenneth G. Elzinga Scholarship (awarded for exceptional academic performance in economics)
 - * Duncan Clark Hyde Award recipient (awarded for exceptional academic performance in economics and general coursework)

EXPERIENCE

- Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, Boston, MA

Summer Associate, May 2024 - July 2024

- Secondment at Liberty Mutual Insurance (James Kelleher Fellow)

- University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA

Research Assistant, August 2020 - September 2022

- Explored security and privacy vulnerabilities in Voice Personal Assistants like Amazon Alexa for use in research paper
- Designed and developed new privacy control features for Amazon Alexa in Python and C++, giving users more control over their sensitive data

- Capital One, McLean, VA

Software Engineering Intern, June 2022 - August 2022

- Built comprehensive web app unifying disparate types of confidential cybersecurity information, including security events, threats, and knowledge bases
- Met daily with project managers to showcase app development progress and discuss design ideas
- Presented project to 60+ associates in Capital One's cybersecurity department

- Environmental Law Institute, Washington, DC

Policy Research Intern, June 2021 - August 2021

- Researched and wrote a comprehensive 30 page literature review on the environmental effects and policy concerns of the Internet of Things, published as the lead article in The Environmental Forum, Spring 2022 issue
- Constructed a bibliographic analysis of 22k research publications in the field of AI and the environment, reporting findings to a team of researchers at ELI, Yale, and Berkeley

- Woodrow Wilson Center, Washington DC

Research Assistant, June 2021 - August 2021

- Worked one-on-one with a think tank scholar to support research on China's role in setting international technical standards
- Drafted multiple essays synthesizing research on China-U.S. relations and technological decoupling
- Read and analyzed papers in both Mandarin Chinese and English to create a comparative analysis of international perspectives on trade decoupling during the COVID-19 pandemic

PERSONAL

- Proficient in Mandarin Chinese. Hobbies include coding, table tennis, East Asian literature/film, and learning guitar.